LAWYERS' DIARY.—This Day, November 14.— CIRCUIT COURT.—Nos. 225, 226, 13, 14, 83, 73, 76, 125, 40, 177, 178, 190, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 200, 201, 203, 207, 210, 211, 213, SATURDAY, November 12.

CIRCUIT COURT .- Before Judge Kent. Richard D. Little vs. Peter La Forge.-This was an ac ion to decide whether the plaintiff, as purchaser acting under the heirs of David Mersereau, or the town of Northfield, has a right to the ownership of Mersereau's Ferry, at Port Richmond, Staten Island. The dock has been filled up, and several buildings placed on the property, at private expease. The case has excited intense interest at the Island and it was found necessary, with a view to obtaining an impartial jury, to bring it to this city for trial. On behalf o the town, a document was produced showing that the Commissioners of Highways, so long ago as 1773, recognized the dock as a public highway. Several aged men (some of them more than 90 years old) testified to the dock having been a public highway from their earliest remembrance The case was still on when the Court adjourned.

COUNTY COURT .- The trial of Justice Parker was resumed, and several witnesses examined. Two or three of them had been carried to Doyle's in the Fourth Ward, and one went from there to the Sixth Ward, where he voted. A man named Dolland testified to being brought, with others, in the omnibus to the Eighth Ward watch house, whence they were soon ordered to the house of Mr. Preston in Hammersley-street. In the morning Preston carried them all to a cellar, where they had breakfast, and some of them afterward accompanied them to the polis Mr. Taylor (late Justice of the Upper Police) preduced an extract he had made from the pell books, in which the names of those brought down were recorded as having thrown 9 votes in the Fourth Ward, 9 in the Seventh, and 7 in the Eighth-the names of three of them appearing more than once. He also presented a copy from the Prison registry, showing the great difference of discharges immediately preceding the Spring Election and those of any other period. The three Magistrates and four Aldermen had discharged 71 vagrants in 21 days previous to the Election, and but 4 were discharged in the 19 days afterwards. It was also shown that three of the Aldermen who were engaged in the discharges were candidates at the Spring Election. The Court adjourned to Tuesday the 224 inst., there being a recess of the Court of Common Pleas, which pre rents the County Court sitting during the coming week. COMMON PLEAS .- Before Judge Inglis.

Wm. J. Applegate, printer, vs. Adeline Miller .- This case was concluded on Saturday. It was shown, in evidence that the press cost $900, and was said by a witness to be worth $600 when put up at Jersey City. (The note given by defendant was for $750.) Some of Mr. Applegate's people accompanied the press, and remained with it a fortnight, but there was doubt as to whether still in Mr. A.'s employment or not. Since the press has been returned, on storage, to Mr. Applegate, he has refused to take $400 and the press and give up the note. Mr. Richards, power-press printer, refused to give $200 for the press.

Judge Inglis, in his charge to the jury, said the policy of the law went to render void a contract made for immoral purposes. If a house should be let or clothes sold to lewd women to carry on their improper pursuits, a note for such would not be valid; but then the party letting or selling such must be proved to have been cognizant of the inten ion, and where clothes are sold, must have done some act o identify him with the improper pursuit. So with selling a press: the plaintiff must be proved not only to have been ware that it was intended to print an immoral publication, but, under the circumstances of this case, must have been participant in the publication. Had the work intended to be printed already been written, and it was of an immoral, infamous nature, there is no doubt but the note would have pecome vitiated; but there is a difference where a work already exists and where one is yet to be printed, as the character of it might be changed. As to the price given for the press, that the jury is not now to consider, as nothing but fraud or improper object can vitiate a business note, and the allegation must be shown in the pleadings. The defence is wholly on the immoral nature of the transaction. The jury must take the copies of the papers presented in evidence (those printed after the press was sold) to their room, and ascertain their character. If they find them to be immoral, they must then decide whether the plaintiff had any participation in their publication or not. The jury, after being out some time, returned a verdict in favor of TA physician in this city said to Dr. Covert, in refer ence to his Raim of Life, that the time would come when the Balm of Life would crowd out of the market most of the other nostrums. Now why did this physician say so? I an-swer, he knew the component parts of Dr. Covert's med-cine, and was perfectly satisfied that such would ultimately be the case. But he went still farther, and stated that if he wished it to get under headway, and give it a rapid circula-tion, be must fall into the wake of others, and, to use his wn expression, go to humbugging the people; for, said he sician) the people will not buy unless you humbug them. IJ Read the following Remarkable Cure performed by BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA:

Mr. C. C. Bristol—Sir: The motive that prompts me to address these lines to you, arises from a conviction paramount to that of mere praise of your valuable Sarsaparilla, for if that was my desire I should fail in the attempt, for I feel as though it would require a more powerful pen than mine to do justice to the high claims of so valuable a medi-Leonard Bostwick, merchant, N. Y., formerly of Augusta, cine as Bristop's Sarsaparilla.

It is the obligation I owe as one of the vast family of man to those, like myself, whose misfortune it has been to be afflicted as I have been for several years past, that induces me, without solicitation, to make known to the world what has been an effectual remedy when and where the been of a core was almost extinct. hope of a cure was almost extinct

I had been informed that you were to visit this city this fall, when I expected to have the pleasure of stating to you what your Sarsaparilla has done for me, but in this I was what your Sarsaparilla has done for me, but in this I was disappointed, you having left the city before I knew it; I have therefore taken this method to inform you, and through you, all who may desire to know what my afflictions were and also what has proved an antidote to the same.

I was attacked with Scrofula in a very alarming form about five years since, which spread rapidly throughout my head, face and throat, internal and external; there were several holes in the roof of my mouth and about the palate, which was nearly destroyed—my speech and hearing so which was nearly destroyed—my speech and hearing so much affected as to leave but little hope that those senses would ever return to me again as they now are. One of my ears was partly destroyed, my nose and the greater part of my face to all human appearance must meet the My nerves were dreadfully affected so as to deprive me any herves were dreating anected so as to deprive the of rest or sleep that was any thing like natural, but as one frenzied I passed my sleepless nights and wearisome days. My lower extremities were deathly cold and inanimate.— My feet were greatly extended in size from what was called Dropsy, and in addition to this, for many years I was af-flicted with Piles in their most severe and distressing form, which is now removed, together with most of my great af-flictions, through the use of your Sarsaparilla alone, after having the best medical treatment the city afforded. I am now nearly well-my face has been saved, my mouth and throat healed, my speech and hearing restored, my sight improved, which was very doubtful, my sleep become natural and my appetite good; in a word, I am a different person in feeling and appearance, and there remains not a doubt but that Bristol's Sarsaparilla will effectually accomplish a thorough and lasting cure of all my afflictions.

I am at a loss for language and terms strong enough to speak of your Sarsaparilia as it deserves. It has been to me every thing—to it I owe the preservation of my life under the direction of a wise Providence, and were I capable I would proclaim to all the world what Bristol's Sarsaparilla uns done for me. It will afford me plensure at any time to informany person who may desire to know any thing I know of Bristol Sarsaparilla.

The common arti-cles of this description give a cadaverous and unnatural whiteness to the skin, while on the contrary, the Blanc D'-E-pagne, which is not a dead white, but a natural, lively, fair fiesh color, communicates the most brilliant and natural fairness that can possibly be conceived, and possesses this pre-eminent excellence, that it is not be discovered by the most scrutinizing observer, but looks like the native Bloom of Health, taken from the neck of Youth and Beenty. Put up in handsome boxes at 25 cents each, and to be had only at 67 Walker-street, I door from Broadway. The rapid sale this article has obtained since its introduction is the best test of its merit. Ladies are you aware that the article called "flake white" is prepared from Corrosive Sublimate, a deadly poison?
